Scott Miller

"What separates great therapists from others is what they do before and after their visit with their clients"

- ☑ Measure your outcome: you can download SRS or ORS licenses here
- ☑ Establish a profile of your strengths and weaknesses
- ☑ Spend time reviewing the basics (empathy, listening, alliance, collaboration): "empathy is not something you do it is something the client experiences"
- ☑ Look for what works and did not work for a particular client
- ☑ Let your clients surprise you
- ☑ Examine, PRACTICE, execute, reflect on how it worked….

…Keep doing this psychotherapy.net

great therapists never stop learning